

THREE COACHES FOR TIGER TEAM

Reports Say Roper, King and Henry Will Drill the 1909 Eleven.

PRINCETON, N. J., January 13.—Those in touch with athletics at Princeton declare that an announcement will be made shortly of a change in the football coaching system of the Orange and Black.

Instead of one coach, with supreme authority, there will be three appointed, with equal jurisdiction.

The men who will be picked to mold a winner on the chalked field next fall are Bill Roper, "Old" who was head coach last autumn, Howard H. Henry, '04, of Philadelphia, one of the best ends ever representing Old Nassau, and Phil King, '06, another famous player.

The advisability of creating a precedent in Princeton football history by installing a trio of head coaches, each vested with equal power, is a question that can be argued almost endlessly. It has been tried at a few minor institutions and failed. However, judging from the calibre of the men who will be placed in charge of Princeton football affairs, there appears to be every reason to believe that the Tiger season will end with great success.

The triumphs of the Blue on the chalk-barred field have become decidedly monotonous to the sons of Old Nassau, and upon Harvard's demonstrating that the New Haven pluckiness were not invincible, the Jerseyites awoke to a realization that there was no reason why the Orange and Black should not wave triumphant in the annual gridiron struggle with their honored rival.

The worth of a definite plan of campaign was shown last year at Harvard, and, taking a leaf from Percy Haughton's coaching book, the Princetonians will endeavor to emulate the success of the Cambridge collegians. Roper, Henry and King will map out a carefully advised campaign that will have in view the success of the coming seasons as well as the play of the year.

A plan of action for the whole season will be adhered to so far as possible. Special attention will be given to the development of scrub players, so that a strong nucleus for the 1910 team will be developed.

Roper, Henry and King are unanimous in their opinion that the Princeton football men should be called out much earlier in the season than has been the case in past years. The Tigers commence work about two weeks later than other colleges, owing to faculty edict that forbids their reporting before the first of September.

Two weeks' start in early-season training is a far greater advantage than it appears to be to laymen, and for that reason the new guardians of Princeton's football affairs will try to influence a change in the date when the candidates are to be called out.

It is known in fact that there were several instances of the Tigers breaking training last fall. One incident resulted in the dropping of a prominent varsity fullback to the scrub eleven, while other instances did not come out until the season had ended. Strict training will be one of the slogans of the new regime, and hard work will be the order from the opening day's practice.

The praises of Phil King, 1896, have often been sung as the greatest quarterback who ever handled the leather. King will have ample opportunity to illustrate his skill at this phase of the game, as a field general is one of the first positions that will have to be filled at the tail of the Tiger next fall.

Howard H. Henry is one of the best ends who ever covered an extremity for the Orange and Black, and his skill will be tested to the utmost in bolstering up one of the weak points of last year's formation.

Roper, Henry and King all made the all-American, while at Princeton, and were rated as stellar performers in their respective positions.

Former Outfielder With Washington and Philadelphia Teams for Magic City.

ROANOKE, VA., January 13.—Frank Shaughnessy, formerly outfielder with the Philadelphia and Washington teams of the American League, and well-known as a baseball and football coach in the South, will manage the Roanoke team in the Virginia State League next season and play outfield. He arrived here today.

Wrestling Bout.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

LYNCHBURG, VA., January 13.—A hand-saw wrestling bout, to be pulled out here on Monday night, has been arranged between John Strehl, of Patterson, N. J., and Bert Hudson, who recently bested Joe Turner, of Washington. Strehl is a heavy-weight, weighing 175 pounds, and he will agree to throw Hudson, a 145-pound welterweight, twice in an hour. This is the first match of this kind to be pulled off here.

RACING SCHEDULE OF GRAND CIRCUIT

Reidsville Withdraws—Dates Assigned for Ten Trotting Meetings Next Season.

NEW YORK, January 13.—Stewards of the Grand Circuit held their annual meeting at the Hoffman House yesterday to arrange dates for the harness racing campaign of 1909. Representatives of the trotting tracks at Detroit, Kalamazoo, Cleveland, Buffalo, Poughkeepsie, Long Branch, Hartford, Syracuse and Columbus were present, and they agreed upon a schedule in record time.

It was authoritatively announced at the meeting that the New England Trotting-Horse Breeders' Association, which owns the ill-fated Reidsville track in the suburbs of Boston, had withdrawn from the circuit and abandoned any attempt to hold races there this year. The famous track where Star Pointer first set the harness record below the 2:00 mark, is soon to be sold under foreclosure proceedings, and unless purchased by those interested in trotting in Boston it will probably be converted into a railroad yard.

The proposed meeting at Long Branch is regarded as uncertain, a similar attempt to make the Jersey shore resort link in the Grand Circuit chain having failed last year. Cleveland is another doubtful member. Its new track is nearly completed, but there is said to be a hitch in the public letting program.

The places and dates of the meetings will probably be as follows:

Detroit, Mich., July 26th to 30th.

Kalamazoo, Mich., August 2d to 6th.

Cleveland, Ohio, August 9th to 14th.

Buffalo, N. Y., August 16th to 20th.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., August 23d to 27th.

Long Branch, N. J., August 30th to September 3d.

Hartford, Conn., September 6th to 10th.

Syracuse, N. Y., September 13th to 17th.

Columbus, Ohio, September 20th to 24th.

W. W. Collier, of the Detroit Driving Club, was elected president of the circuit, to succeed J. M. Johnson, of the New England Breeders' Association. De Forest Settle, of Syracuse, was chosen vice-president, and H. D. Shepherd, of Columbus, was chosen secretary and treasurer. H. N. Bain, of Poughkeepsie; H. K. Devereaux, of Cleveland; W. P. Engleman, of Kalamazoo; Orlando Jones, of Hartford, and E. W. Swisher, of Columbus, were among those present.

SUNFIRE HIT THE BOOKMAKERS HARD

Played Strong at Odds of 7 to 5, Miss K. O. B. Fell at Start.

SAVANNAH, GA., January 13.—Ladies' day at the Thunderbolt track helped the attendance largely, despite a cold, rainy afternoon. The bookies had a hard time in the second event, Sunfire being played strong. The winners of each race came in without great effort. Miss K. O. B. fell on the gettaway of the third race, throwing Leach. Neither horse nor rider was hurt. Track fast.

First race—five furlongs, for three-year-olds and up—Whiskbroom (1 to 2) first, Spunky (2 to 1) second, Miss Dulin (12 to 1) third. Time, 1:04 3/5.

Second race—purse, for three-year-olds and up, six furlongs—Sunfire (7 to 5) first, Salvaterra (5 to 1) second, Young (15 to 1) third. Time, 1:17 3/5.

Third race—purse, three-year-olds and up, six furlongs—Masks and Faces (6 to 5) first, W. G. Williams (10 to 1) second, Big Hand (5 to 2) third. Time, 1:19 4/5.

Fourth race—purse, for three-year-olds and up, one mile—Sikine (1 to 10) first, Grandstand (7 to 2) second, Ball of the Ball (6 to 1) third. Time, 1:45.

Fifth race—purse, for three-year-olds and up, five furlongs—Ora Sudduth (7 to 2) first, Tiekilkins (5 to 1) second, Merise (8 to 1) third. Time, 1:04 4/5.

TO THE MINORS.

McGraw Will Release "Iron Man" if Club Wins.

NEW YORK, January 13.—"Iron Man" Joe McGraw will not be with the Giants next season, Manager John McGraw has decided to release the league clubs for waivers on McGraw's services, which means that if all clubs waive claim the "Iron Man" is doomed to go to some minor league team. McGraw wanted to dispose of the famous pitcher last season, but no other club was willing to assume the large salary.

McGraw was in the South Atlantic League, and good judges say that he is capable of holding down a job in the National.

TRUBY FOR BIG LEAGUE

President Pulliam Thinking Seriously of Appointing Harry on Staff.

From Cincinnati comes this bit of news: President Pulliam is seriously thinking of appointing Harry Truby, or Ironton, the old Pittsburg second baseman, to take Owens's place on the National League staff. Truby has been doing excellent work in the South Atlantic League, and good judges say that he is capable of holding down a job in the National.

Victory and defeat was the order of the day for the Britons at the Covanter gymnasium yesterday afternoon. The Greeks went down in the last few moments of the first game by the fast work of Captain H. Taylor, of the Britons, who shot a long goal from the middle of the floor, winning out for his side by the score of 6 to 4.

In the second contest, the fast work of Luebert and Peerman proved to be too much for the winners of the previous contest, the Romans taking the laurels to the tune of 9 to 4.

Both games were fast and furious from the sound of the whistle, the general play showing improvement over former exhibitions, the team work of each side keeping the score at low figures.

Line-up in first game:

Britons. Positions. Greeks.

G. Taylor, forward. Holderby.

Holliday, forward. J. Miller.

H. Taylor (Capt.) centre. Massey (Capt.)

McVey, guard. Coleman.

C. Miller, guard. Locky.

The Romans were especially strong in the second game, with four members of the first team. Line-up:

Brook, guard. C. Miller.

INDOOR TRACK MEET NEXT MONTH

At a meeting of the Richmond College Athletic Association yesterday afternoon it was decided to call a special meeting of the Eastern Collegiate Association to be held in this city tomorrow afternoon, the purpose of which has been under consideration at the local institutions for some time past.

This body should definitely decide the matters that have caused considerable controversy with the Richmond College from the league. The rules, which will be gone over, are those pertaining to the four-year limit for athletes and their eligibility in competition.

The indoor track meet was decided to be held on February 27th, when an excellent program of events is assured. It is the desire of the committee in charge to make this the most attractive affair of the kind ever held at the colleges of the South Atlantic Association will be invited to the games, Virginia having already promised to send a team. If possible some of the larger universities of the East will be on hand, and there will also be provision for the preparatory schools.

Academy—Matinee and night, "Buster Brown."

Bliss—"Young Buffalo."

"Buster" Comes To-Day.

"Buster Brown" comes to the Academy today for two performances. For this season much in the way of new costumes, scenery, songs, and funny situations have been added. The management realize that the play is good for many years to come, and wisely endeavor to maintain the high plane of excellence heretofore maintained. The performance is an interesting one to grown folks, and affords unbounded delight for the little ones. It is a treat to see their bright faces at a "Buster Brown" performance.

One of the most brilliantly successful of American actors is Mr. Wright Lorrimer, who will be seen at the Academy Friday and Saturday, January 16th and 17th, in his splendid production of the powerful romantic drama, "The Shepherd King," under the direction of William A. Brady. Mr. Lorrimer has made himself the leading exponent of romantic roles on the American stage, and his remarkable performance of David, in "The Shepherd King," has attracted the attention of the most conservative critics and students of the drama. "The Shepherd King" has been more or less familiar to all followers of the drama. It is a masterly play, founded on the romance in the early life of David of Israel up to the time he became King at the death of Saul.

Lillian Russell, in "Wildfire," Not since "In Old Kentucky" flashed across the vision have theatre-goers seen a raring play of deeper insight and of more genuine appeal than the comedy "Wildfire," by George Broadhurst and George V. Hobart, in which Joseph Brooks presents Lillian Russell at the Academy on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

It is an oddity in that it successfully mingles the atmosphere of a beautiful country home and the realism of a race-track. The novelty of the theme, the dramatic setting, the brilliant Lillian Russell gives the full credit for establishing the illusions that make the play vital. Her work is refined and artistic, and intensely dramatic at one and the same time. The play is faultlessly staged, and Miss Russell is given clever support by a company selected for her by Mr. Brooks.

No. 1102 Hull Street.

Never before in the history of the city has a visiting lodge of the Order of the Moose been so cordially and enthusiastically received as was the visiting lodge of the Order of the Moose from Petersburg last night by the local Aerie and the citizens generally. Hull Street, from Cowardin Avenue to Fraternal Hall, the line of march, was a blaze of lights, and the visitors, accompanied by the local lodge, each holding a red light and firing Roman candles, presented an imposing sight, as they marched down the main thoroughfare to the inspiring strains of a band. Many of the merchants and residents illuminated their names, and the Lafayette House, the end of the march, was brilliantly lighted.

The Petersburg Aerie arrived at 8:50 and was met at Cowardin Avenue by about twenty members of the local Aerie. The march was led by the Petersburg Turnpike the track had been strewn with torpedoes, and the noise of these combined with the lights, Roman candles and skyrocket which were sent off at the approach of the visitors' car, assured them of a hearty reception. From the Lafayette House the two Aeries adjourned to Fraternal Hall, where speeches of welcome were made and responded to.

The call for supper was then sounded, and all repaired to the dining room. More than 100 were seated at the banquet. Everything imaginable was contained in the menu, from oysters to nuts. The tables were tastefully decorated with flowers and emblems of the order. During the supper instrumental and vocal music was rendered. The guests and hosts, at the conclusion of supper, adjourned to the hall, where Mr. Thomas H. Smith, as master of ceremonies, introduced the various speakers. Alderman "Bill" Hart, of the local lodge, made the hit of the evening with his quaint songs and witticisms. Besides the Petersburg members, there were a number of visitors from Richmond, one from Georgia and one from North Carolina.

The visitors from Petersburg were James A. Watson, W. E. Moore, C. W. Bland, James W. Wells, J. T. Avery, S. A. Lawrence, G. A. Brister, W. R. Dewell, John Pulley, W. E. Eames, D. E. Adams, C. L. Milburn, Joseph Johnson and M. H. Staples. The Richmonders present were John E. Heintz, F. W. Lewis, H. L. Cook, W. T. Helms, J. R. Rector, Thomas Bagby and Luther M. Clarke. Mr. H. Kerne, from Georgia, was also present.

Large Crowd at Women's Meeting.

Central Church was again crowded last night, when, for the second time since the opening of the evangelistic services in this city, Dr. Granstaff preached to women only. The inclusive character of the service, in the spirit of the women of the city, and when services were opened the main auditorium was crowded and there were some few in the Sunday school room, which had been thrown open. Before the sermon Mr. Fugh sang two solos. Mr. Granstaff spoke from the fifty-sixth Psalm, "Tears," He spoke with the same enthusiasm and force which have characterized his sermons here, and at the conclusion a number of those present went forward and asked for prayer. Several among the number were converted, expressing their trust in the Lord and their intentions in the future to be guided by prayer and belief. Mr. Fugh again sang at the end of the sermon. There will be no afternoon service today. To-night Dr. Granstaff will preach on "Other Worldliness." The services will be held at 8 o'clock.
